Young People's Service

Support for young people
affected by cancer

Everything is different now.
I don't know what's happening.
I don't want to go to school.
If I'm good, will they get better?
My tummy hurts.
I feel so sad.
Is it still okay to play?
They're always upset.
Is it my fault?
It's not fair.

It can be tough
when someone you love has cancer.

We can help.

Cavendish Cancer Care offers a specialist, free of charge service to children and young people up to the age of 18, whose lives have been affected by cancer.

This includes those who have had cancer themselves, and those who have been affected by the illness within their family. The service also works with young people who are bereaved.

As well as offering one-to-one sessions to young people, our therapists also offer advice to parents and guardians who are looking for guidance in supporting their family.

Our service is provided by a team of experienced therapists, who use a wide range of approaches including Counselling, Art Psychotherapy and Play Therapy, to enable young people to explore their experiences and feelings in a safe and creative environment.

Simply give us a call on 0114 278 4600 to book an initial consultation.

“I began to notice a difference in my children; they were calmer. I’d learned new ways to support them, and the therapy helped them understand what was happening.”
