

Terms of Use

These terms apply to any online material provided by Cavendish Cancer Care. Your use of this site constitutes acceptance of these Terms of Use which take effect on the date of your first use of the site. Cavendish Cancer Care reserves the right to change the Terms of Use at any time by posting changes online. Your continued use of the site after changes are posted constitutes acceptance of the updated agreement. The Content has been compiled from a variety of sources and is subject to change without notice.

Cavendish Cancer Care works alongside the NHS and all material provided is considered complementary to medical practices. The information shared is intended solely as a self-help tool for your own use and does not constitute medical advice, treatment or guarantee of outcome.

By accessing our online resources, you accept full responsibility for the consequences of your use, or non-use, of any material provided and you agree to use your own judgment and due diligence before implementing any idea, suggestion or recommendation.

The course content should not be considered applicable to all situations or people. Some of these practices may not be suitable for certain pre-existing conditions and it is always advisable to seek the advice of a licensed healthcare professional. You agree to read the explanation accompanying videos and audios for a safe and comfortable experience.

Where links are provided to other sites and resources of third parties, these links are provided for your information only. Cavendish Cancer Care neither endorses nor accepts responsibility for the contents of those sites or resources.

Please do not listen to any of the audios when you need to maintain concentration, such as when driving.

We kindly ask that you do not share any of the content without permission from Cavendish Cancer Care.

Cavendish Cancer Care complies with all data protection requirements – our privacy notice is available on request and can be viewed at www.cavcare.org.uk/privacynotice. We collect personal data in connection with online resources, groups and courses in order to provide you with safe and effective support. This information also enables us to evaluate and to continue to develop and improve the services we provide and to report to our funders and partners (using anonymised information except with your specific permission).
